BURGLAR EATEN BY HUNGRY PITBULLS

Homeowner found remains in living room

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A BURGLAR was savagely mauled and EATEN by a pair of pitbulls after breaking into a home.

The chewed remains of Alex Abraha, 21, were found when the homeowner returned and discovered his dogs tucking into the corpse in his lounge.

It is believed that Abraha was ALIVE when the animals started feasting on his flesh.

London set to get hundreds of more cops

HUNDREDS of police officers will be added to London's streets over the next six months in a bid to make women and girls feel safer, the Metropolitan Police say.

The force announced an additional 650 cops will be put in place across the capital.

The Met said the addition of the new officers was part of a drive to cut down on violent crime, including domestic abuse and violence against women and girls, after the murder of Sarah Everard, 33, by police officer Wayne Couzens (above), who used his police issue handcuffs and warrant card to stage a fake arrest before he raped and murdered her.

On Monday, Met Police chief Dame Cressida Dick said she has called in an independent reviewer to look at the force's culture following Couzens' whole life sentencing last week.

Sofa so good for furniture stores

FURNITURE specialist ScS has hailed a "strong year of recovery" as it bounced back to profitability.

The Sunderland-based company reported a pre-tax profit of £22.7m for the year to July 31, after tumbling to a £3.1m loss in the previous year.

Steve Carson, chief executive of ScS, also hailed a "strong" start to trading in the new financial year but cautioned that it is tackling supply chain challenges.

He said: "We are cognisant of the ongoing challenges we, and other businesses, are facing."

SHORTAGE OF HGV DRIVERS...

QUEUES AT PETROL PUMPS...

EMPTY SUPERMARKET SHELVES...

AND BORIS SAYS...

'DON'T WORRY...IT'S ALL PART OF THE PLAN!'

THE Prime Minister has denied the supply chain chaos is a 'crisis' despite empty supermarket shelves and queues at petrol station forecourts.

Instead he said the current problems are just part of the economy is "creaking" back into life after COVID and moving to "higher wages".

In interviews at the Tory conference in Manchester, the PM insisted the country is at a "turning point" as businesses are weaned off cheap labour after Brexit.

He compared the disruption to a "giant waking up", saying it was what you would expect of the global economy recovering and "sucking in demand".

Asked directly if he thought the situation was a crisis, he replied: "No."

But he admitted Christmas might only be better from a "low base" amid fears of ongoing shortages, after it was as good as cancelled last year during the pandemic.

And he conceded that the government's efforts to bring in more lorry drivers from abroad are having limited success, with just 127 having applied for emergency visas.

Tensions have been rising between ministers and business, with Foreign Secretary Liz Truss warning firms will be to blame if Christmas is blighted by shortages and price rises.

One Cabinet source said companies have been "drunk on cheap labour" and failed to plan for the changes.

The PM said: "The supply chain problem is caused very largely by the strength of the economic recovery."

"What you'll see is brilliant logistic experts in supermarket chains, in our food processing industry, getting to grips with it, finding the staff that they need. We will help them in any way that we can."

"But the shortage is global." He went on: "What you can't do is go back to the old, failed model where you mainline low-wage, low-skilled labour, who come in, who work in conditions that frankly are pretty tough and we shouldn't be going back to that."

Of "demand-led" shortages, he said: "What you are seeing is the UK economy coming back into life, really sort of stretching its legs, starting to move again, and of course there's been a bit of creaking here and there because we haven't had such activity in a long time."

Mr Johnson played down fears over spiralling inflation, saying that tackling underlying productivity problems was the way to "fix" rising prices.

'Morons' are nicked after Tory assault

"INCOHERENT morons" allegedly called Sir Iain Duncan Smith "Tory Scum" before hitting him on the head with a traffic cone.

The former Tory leader disarmed them and fended them off.

Sir Iain was on his way to a fringe event on Monday at the Tory party conference in Manchester when he was targeted by five people who allegedly yelled abuse at him and his wife, Betsy, as they walked to the event.

Greater Manchester Police said three men and two women were arrested within minutes of reports of an assault on Portland Street at around 4pm.

Sir Iain (above), 67, said: "It wasn't frightening at all. They were just morons, incoherent morons."

"They were shouting and then they smashed the cone on the back of my head and so I turned and grabbed the cone and looked at them and I took a pace towards them and they backed off."

"I threw the cone on the ground, said 'pathetic' and turned and walked off."

Baker Greggs making dough

SAUSAGE roll seller Greggs is to accelerate plans to open new stores across the UK despite warning that it has been impacted by disruption to staffing and the supply of ingredients.

The news came as the bakery chain lifted its annual profit outlook after surpassing pre-pandemic sales.

The company, which has more than 2,100 shops, said it has "not been immune" to supply chain pressures affecting the UK's food and drinks firms.

It told shareholders that it has "seen some disruption to the availability of labour and supply of ingredients and products" recently.

Greggs said it expects to have expanded by around 100 shops in 2021.

BBC GONE IN 10 YEARS?

NADINE Dorries has questioned whether the BBC will still exist in 10 years and hit out at the broadcaster over its left wing bias.

The Culture Secretary said the corporation must do more to represent a wider range of views and reflect a wider demographic than just people "whose mum and dad work there".

Ms Dorries (left) is due to conclude negotiations with the BBC over the licence fee, which is £159 a year, shortly.

The talks will determine its cost over the next five years, and she suggested she was linking her demands for change at the BBC to the licence fee settlement, due to be announced imminently.

Asked whether the licence fee would still be compulsory in 10 or 20 years. She replied: "I can't look into the future. Will the BBC still be here in 10 years? I don't know. "The BBC has to change. Where they fail is on impartiality. I think the BBC themselves have probably sat down and thought 'oh yeah, we do have a bit of a problem'. It's on access as well. How can it become more representative of the people who pay the licence fee?"

"There's a lot for the BBC to address and we're having those discussions."

Sex trolls smear Gwynnie with taboo kink slurs...

HAS SHE GOT A JADE EGG UP HER BUM?

TARGET:
Mail fans posted comments after star posed nude in bath (above)

Angus, Bristol, United Kingdom, 1 day ago

the facial expression can only mean one thing.....Jade egg up the jacksie.

The Guide, Jordan, United Kingdom, 17 hours ago

She's probably giving it a good old clear out and careful scrub.

By HARPER HAYES
news@sundaysport.co.uk

DID acting legend Gwyneth Paltrow lubricate her tight, puckered anus and slip one of her wellness company's egg-shaped stones into it before posing for a naked bathtime picture?!

That was the question sick Daily Mail readers were asking after the stunning Hollywood babe posted a revealing snap on Instagram.

Gwynnie continued her annual birthday tradition as she celebrated turning 49 last week, by stripping naked to pose in a bathtub for a sizzling social media snap.

The actress showcased her famous figure as she relaxed in the water for the jaw-dropping post, after her husband Brad Fulchuk posted a gushing birthday tribute.

Overlooking a stunning night landscape Gwyneth covered her bust with her hands as she glanced at the camera while posing in the bath.

"In nothing but my birthday suit today... thank you all so much for the birthday wishes and thank you to @goop's insanely amazing brand new body butter for making me think I can still get my kit off. #goopgenes," she captioned the online image.

But few of the Daily Mail's sexist readers found it in their hearts to join in Gwyneth's birthday joy.

And instead they descended into the lower reaches of SMUT!

One Bristol-based reader leered: "Facial expression can only mean one thing...jade egg up the jacksie."

The reader is referring to the jade eggs sold on Gwynnie's Goop website, whose spines are meant to be inserted into the vagina for fanny-tightening exercises.

There is NO SUGGESTION that Gwynnie had slipped one into her delightful anus ahead of the birthday snap.

Another reader suggested she was giving her minge "a good old clear out and careful scrub" in the photo.

A pal of the star said: "There are always some people who want to fantasise about Gwyn's intimate openings. It's just plain sick."

ICE IS TAKING LIBERTY

LOVE Island star Liberty Poole, rugby player Ben Foden and Regan Gascoigne, the son of footballer Paul, are the next string of celebrities announced for Dancing On Ice 2022.

Reality TV star Liberty (right), 22, was coupled up with Jake Cornish in the latest series of Love Island but gave up a place in the final as they called time on their romance and left the villa.

Liberty said: "I grew up watching Dancing On Ice and my mum used to be a figure skater.

"I ice skate as a hobby sometimes so I can get around the rink but I can't do any tricks, no pirouetting or anything, so I'm looking forward to pushing myself and learning as much as I can.

"Not just skating around the ice, but actually dancing on ice. Bring it on!"

Wrong ticket man's jailed for abusing railway staff

A TRAIN passenger has been jailed for shouting homophobic abuse at female staff at a railway station.

Lee Thomas, 42, flew into a rage at a member of rail staff when he was told he needed to buy a ticket.

A court heard he called the worker a "lesbian" and said she "needed to be with a man".

The abuse was hurled after Thomas tried to buy a ticket from a different stop than he had boarded the train at.

He had travelled 40 miles from Shotton to Llandudno in North Wales.

But he tried to buy a ticket for a 14-mile journey from nearby Abergelle.

Magistrates in Llandudno heard that CCTV images were circulated by British Transport Police after the incident.

Thomas was then spotted by officers a month later on a train travelling to the seaside town of Rhyl.

Thomas, of Leighton Court, Flint, was held and later found guilty of two public order offences and given 16 weeks in prison.

BEANZ MEANZ BOOBS!

ROBYN GOOD: Our busty babe puts beans to good use

BACK in the olden days, shopkeepers were warned to be in the lookout for kids buying tubes of glue or tins of lighter fuel.

But this is 2021 and kids are shit these days.

Now parents and shop owners have been warned by police to look out for youngsters buying large quantities of BAKED BEANS.

It's because of a new bizarre TikTok trend called "beaning" that has been making the rounds.

This latest trend on TikTok, an app which

By GRANT HUGHES
news@sundaysport.co.uk

allows showoffs to post short videos of their own stupidity, sees users getting their hands on tins of baked beans and emptying them on the likes of unsuspecting victims' doorsteps, cars and driveways.

Egging

The prank is similar in nature to egging, which involves throwing eggs at someone's house or car, and is especially popular around Halloween.

TikToks with the hashtag #BeanBandits have amassed nearly two million views on the social media platform, with individual videos racking up thousands of likes.

One user called @bean.bandits posted a video which showed someone opening seven tins of beans with a can opener, with the caption "no-one is safe".

Three people, including the person filming, then empty the contents of the tins on someone poor sod's doorstep.

One person commented: "Not rly that funny bro ur putting beans on a doorstep some poor kid is gonna have to clean that bro like cmon now."

Another wrote: "You must have a sad life if ur doing this."

Others said that the stunt is "a waste of food" and that the tins could have been "donated to a homeless person".

But here's a way of using baked beans that is certainly NOT putting them to waste.

We sat busty Robyn Alexandra into a bathtub of the teatime treat.

And guess what we at Midweek Sport had for supper that night?

That's right: fish and chips.

JODIE BARES ALL IN NEW FLICK

TOP JOB: Jodie in Silent Witness

KILLING Eve's Jodie Comer is set to get her minge out in her latest role.

The stunning Scouser thrilled fans as sexy assassin Villanelle in the BBC drama.

Sadly, she keeps her kit on throughout the three series of the show, hiding her rather lovely busters.

Jodie, 28, has gone topless before, as a corpse in the TV show Silent Witness and the 2016 film Thirteen but her role in director Ridley Scott's new blockbuster about French Emperor Napoleon Bonaparte will see her give a much better glimpses of her lovely boobs and, insiders say, her hairy bush.

The movie, called Kitbag, sees her as Josephine, the famed military leader's first wife, alongside Joaquin Phoenix, 46, as Napoleon.

And sources say Jodie dares to bare for a series of intimate scenes as the movie, due out in 2023, documents the pair's famously passionate love affair.

A source said: "Jodie has done sexy roles before but nothing like this."

"She felt it was right for the character and has thrown caution to the wind in it."

House on UK's most expensive street will cost you £30 million

BRITAIN'S most expensive street has been revealed, with the average property costing a staggering £30 million.

Home to embassies, diplomatic and wealthy residents such as the Cambridges and Chelsea owner Roman Abramovich, London's Kensington Palace Gardens is the UK's priciest neighbourhood.

A typical property on billionaires' row costs an eye-watering £29,898,000, dwarfing the UK average house price of £265,668.

Soaring

With prices currently soaring, property website Zoopla's Rich List revealed almost 12,000 streets in the UK now boast houses costing £1m or more.

London leads the way as the place with the most expensive streets, in second was Courtney Avenue, in Highgate, on the edge of leafy Hampstead Heath and close to Kenwood House stately home. The average house price here is £19,440,000.

Grosvenor Crescent (SW1X), located in Belgravia, and a short stroll from Buckingham Palace Gardens, ranks third with an average price of £17,212,000.

Outside of London, Titlarks Hill in Ascot, Berks, is now the road with the heaviest house prices at almost £8.5m.

Man charged with murder of missing OAP

A MAN has been charged with the murder of a 70-year-old woman who'd not been seen by family or friends since August.

Serkan Kaygusuz, 41, of Islington, north London, who has also been charged with two counts of theft, is due to appear at Highbury Corner Magistrates' Court.

Norma Girolami vanished without saying anything to her loved ones, leaving food in the fridge and no signs of having planned to leave.

The Metropolitan Police said she was reported missing on September 20.

Investigators searched multiple addresses and became increasingly concerned that she had come to harm.

A 34-year-old woman who was arrested on October 1 in connection with the investigation has been bailed.

GROPING COP JAILED

PC grabbed bum of crime victim

BANGED UP:
Alan Butler

A COPPER who had sex with a woman he was assigned to help and groped another victim's bum in her home has been jailed.

Alan Butler, 64, began an extra marital affair with the first woman and bombarded her with calls for two years.

Butler served as an officer for Warwickshire Police for more than 30 years tackling kidnappings, robberies and sexual offences.

Warwick Crown Court heard he preyed on another vulnerable lady he was supposed to be helping in 2017 who claimed he used his position to "groom" her.

Judge Anthony Potter told him: "It would have been obvious to you that the first woman was going through difficulties in her life."

"I am quite satisfied you realised she was relying on you to a disproportionate extent."

"When she complains you were manipulating her, I find that to be the case."

Judge Potter said Butler used his position as a police officer to "coerce" the second victim into kissing him.

He told Butler: "She never gave you any indication that she wanted to have a relationship with you."

Coerced

"You frequently visited her under the guise of pursuing your activities as a police officer, and you coerced her into kissing you on at least two occasions and allowing you to touch her bottom, something she was uncomfortable with."

"As she said, you saw an opportunity to manipulate her and pursue your own agenda, and you took it."

"Your offending has had a profound and deep-seated effect on both women."

"You had cynically made an assessment that if they were to complain, there was every chance their complaints would be disregarded.

"Not only must police officers be deterred from such conduct, but the public must see that condign punishment will follow for officers who betray the trust placed in them."

The court heard that Butler struck up a sexual relationship with the first woman while he was investigating a complaint made by her.

Giving evidence, the first woman said: "When he needed to be supportive, his professional hat went on."

Flirty

"Otherwise, he would be flirty, but not in a way, when I first met him, that I thought it was something wrong."

"I never thought that something like that was going to happen."

"He was saying 'Have you reported me?' He was frantic. I knew he meant report him to the police, because he knew it was out of order what was going on."

"I said he should keep it in his pants, then. He said that I was the only person he'd had an extra-marital affair with."

"The first time I spoke to Alan Butler, little did I know my life would be left in turmoil."

Butler, of Nuneaton, Warks, was found guilty of two charges of misconduct in a public office and jailed for 18 months.

Police gear thief caged

A SERIAL thief sneaked into a sleeping cop's home and stole his epaulettes.

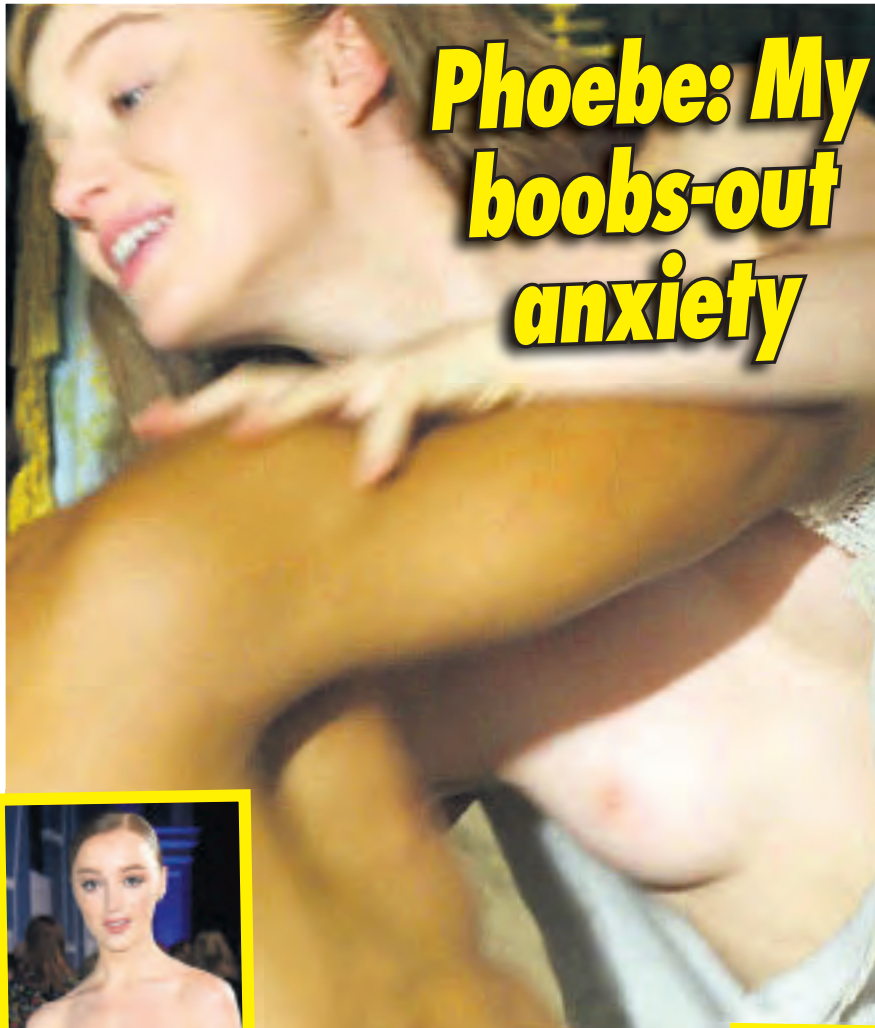

Gary Collins, 44, dropped the officer's gear and driver's licence a short distance away on a footpath.

Kirkcaldy Sheriff Court heard Collins crept into the officer's home while he slept. The man found the items were missing when he woke up, after he realised the back door had not been secured the night before.

Collins had taken the officer's works bag, a set of police epaulettes, £40 in cash and three jackets worth around £500.

Collins, of Kirkcaldy, Fife, was handed eight months in prison after he admitted stealing from three properties.

Phoebe: My boobs-out anxiety

BRIDGERTON scorching Phoebe Dynevor says that getting her busters out on telly has left her full of ANXIETY.

The actress, 26, was thrust into the spotlight with her role as Daphne Bridgerton in the raunchy Netflix series.

She said: "I don't think anyone knows how to handle that."

"I worry about everything. I'm full of anxiety. I have a fear of failure, letting someone down, contradicting myself."

"You see what it is for your mental health to be in the public eye."

"I meditate, I have a therapist, I walk every day. There are things I do to ground myself, because it's quite hectic at the moment."

Phoebe, who is the daughter of Coronation Street star Sally Dynevor, said she was taken aback by the success of Bridgerton and only realised the impact it would have on her life when she saw paparazzi outside her front door.

She said: "I thought it was just another project. I didn't think anyone was going to care."

"We were all in lockdown, stuck at home and nothing changed."

"In the first season, people were saying to me, 'You know this could be huge', but you don't ever believe that, and you will never understand what it feels like until it happens to you."

Season 2 of Bridgerton is in production.

Facebook ad leads cops to drug dealer!

A MAN trying to sell a catalytic converter online has been nicked after a huge stash of METH and a syringe were spotted in the background of the pic he used to advertise it.

James Kertz, 38, was taken into custody in Reeds Spring, Missouri, after posting a photo of the catalytic converter (above) on Facebook Marketplace.

His bag of meth and drug paraphernalia were clearly visible on the coffee table behind the exhaust emission device he was trying to get rid of.

Stone County Sheriff Doug Rader said someone tipped them off to the drug stash soon after Kertz posted the ad on social media.

"Apparently he must have been under the influence because in the background of his picture he posted, he left his large bag of meth and syringe on the coffee table," the sheriff said.

"Take note, if you are selling items on social media. Make sure your drugs are not in the background!"

Couple's huge diamond find on trip to park

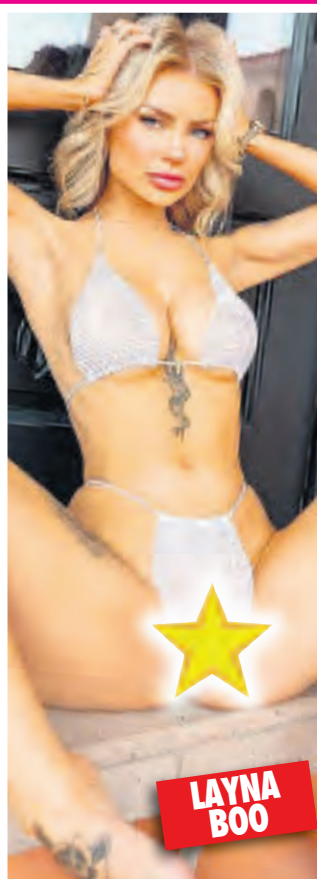

A COUPLE'S holiday took a lucky turn after they found a huge DIAMOND in a national park.

The Granite Bay, California, couple were on holiday at Hot Springs National Park when Noreen realised they were near the park, which is the only diamond mine in the US open to the public.

After exploring the park for just 40 minutes, Noreen spotted the glimmering gemstone on the ground and handed it to her husband.

They took it to the park's Diamond Discovery Centre, where staff then identified it as 4.38-carat yellow diamond.

Sex cult doc is struck off for branding

THE doc who branded "slaves" in the Nxivm sex cult with leader Keith Raniere's initials has been stripped of her medical licence.

A state Department of Health hearing committee sustained multiple counts of professional misconduct against Dr. Danielle Roberts (above), who was part of the master-slave group within Nxivm known as DOS.

Health officials found that Roberts used a cauterising machine to write "KAR" on the pelvic region of at least 17 women without anaesthesia, "to intentionally cause them pain".

The disgraced former doctor was defiant and evasive as she testified before the health committee.

Roberts "denies being brainwashed, yet she expressed no real remorse, which represented to the hearing committee her distorted reality and the very real concern that others remain vulnerable to her future brandings," the decision read.

Smuggler had £40,000 worth of gold in bum

A MAN was busted at an airport for smuggling around TWO POUNDS of gold in his ARSE.

Mohammad Sharif was at the Imphal Airport in Manipur, India, headed to New Delhi, when an officer noticed his suspicious movements and began questioning him, the Central Industrial Security Force said.

The officer took him to a medical exam room for an X-ray and found the treasure, valued at £40k, buried in his colon.

Sharif, of Kozhikode, confessed to carrying four gold pouches but said the glittering goods didn't belong to him.

The case is just a tiny part of a smuggling trend in India and comes after a traveller, known only as Rayees, was arrested at Kannur Airport in March for smuggling 1.2 pounds of gold paste in his bum.

DICK OUT: Williamson had just been freed

Crap burglar found asleep under pile of chicken nuggets

A USELESS burglar who broke into a sports complex was nabbed surrounded by piles of uneaten chicken nuggets that he'd filched from a store room.

Matthew Williamson, 37, was found sleeping in the building amid piles of stolen nuggets, crisps, sweets, and deadly death drug crystal meth.

The hungry felon was also covered head to toe in BBQ sauce and his DICK was out, as though he'd dropped off midway through a wank.

Snacks

The outlaw snoozefest took place at the Athletic Complex in Pleasant Grove, Alabama, with snacks stolen from the store room of a concession stand, just days after Williamson had walked out of jail on another crime, police said in a statement.

Williamson had been arrested on September 17, charged with breaking and entering a vehicle and stealing property, but he made bail and walked free, cops said on Facebook.

Their statement read: "Less than two hours after leaving jail, Williamson stole a car.

"On September 22, someone stole a trove of snacks after breaking into the athletic complex's concession stand."

"Williamson was caught catching some shut-eye with the stolen goods and drugs the next morning."

Williamson admitted the burglaries and car theft and was taken back to jail the day after his nap was interrupted.

Sources at Athletic Complex say that "almost none" of the food found surrounding Williamson will be resold and any that does make it to the concession stand will be "thoroughly checked for public hair and semen".

A police insider said: "I imagine that after taking a whole mess of that there crystal meth, breaking into a food stall and performing an act of self-pollution while munching snacks would seem like a whoop-ass good idea."

"Well sir, it ain't. Not while Pleasant Grove Police are patrolling the streets."

"Hell, I'll ain't never gonna eat a chilli dog from that concession again."

Voices in head led to air rage

A MAN has been held for punching a flight attendant after hearing voices, forcing the plane to return to the airport.

Steve Sloan Jr, 32, was aboard Hawaiian Airlines Flight HA152, which took off from Daniel K. Inouye International Airport in Honolulu en route to Hilo, when he punched the male crew member.

He later slugged the flight attendant again and sat back down "as if nothing had happened," the arrest report said.

Sloan, who lives on the Hawaiian island of Molokai, was arrested when the flight landed back in Honolulu.

He was charged with assault and interference with a flight crew and held at a local jail.

HOLIDAY DRIVER SPEARED IN CAR

A DRIVER on holiday was killed when he was speared by a length of metal that fell off a lorry on the road in front of his rental car.

Thomas Arrington, 69 (below), was heading north on the I-95 near Danvers, Massachusetts, when debris fell out of a dump truck on the same side of the highway.

The piece of metal, identified as a screed, a tool used to level and smooth freshly-poured concrete, struck Thomas, who was travelling with a 68-year old female passenger.

Though severely injured, he was able to veer his rented Ford Fusion into another lane and stop the car. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

Mr Arrington, of Palmer in Alaska, and the woman were in Massachusetts on holiday and had only arrived the previous day.

An investigation is ongoing and as yet no charges have been brought against the 21-year-old driver of the dump truck.

A RANDY tourist thought he was in for the time of his life when two attractive women invited him to join them for a drink and a THREESOME.

But instead of a group sex session the crafty pair drugged the bloke with crushed Xanax before robbing him of his watch and other valuables and going on a spending spree with his credit card.

Elizabeth Labbe, 19, and Kimberly Ann Lebron-Martinez, 20, are facing a slew of charges over the caper, which took place in Miami Beach, Florida.

They approached the victim in the early hours of Friday morning and asked him if he would like to join them for a drink.

The man agreed and the trio went to a nearby bar before later picking up a carton of White Claw spiked seltzers and heading to a park.

Witnesses said that the pair were "openly fondling" the man and flashing their breasts.

Slits

A report that the girls put on a lesbian show in the park, fingering each other's wet, fully-shaven slits, has not yet been confirmed by police.

The man later told cops he took a sip of a drink from a plastic cup before he quickly lost consciousness.

He later awoke to find his debit and credit cards missing, along with £2,000 in cash that he had withdrawn for his holiday.

Cops claim Labbe and Lebron-Martinez also fleeced the unnamed victim of his iPhone 12, his £7,000 Omega watch and his £3,000 gold chain.

The duo also allegedly stole the man's posh pair of Yeezy trainers, pulling them off his feet as he lay unconscious.

The women are then accused of going on a 16-hour spending spree, splashing the tourist's cash and racking up charges on his credit card.

They also allegedly obtained access to his iPhone and used his Zelle and Apple Pay accounts to carry out fraudulent transactions.

Officers say the pair spent more than £10k.

The duo were tacked down using surveillance footage from the Miami Beach area.

Lebron-Martinez is said to have admitted to playing a part in the crime, saying she crushed up Xanax and slipped it in the drink.

She and Labbe are now facing charges of robbery, grand theft, fraudulent use of identification, and unlawful possession of a stolen credit card.

MCDONALD'S fans munching on burgers got an eyeful when a naked man with a HARD-ON walked by.

Officers responded to a report of a suspicious person "prowling" after the caller reported seeing a male who was naked and walking down the street near a McDonald's eatery in Nelsonville, Ohio.

According to reports, the oddball was "visibly aroused" and "occasionally wanking".

Officers located and arrested the man and charged him with drug abuse, public indecency, criminal mischief, and burglary. Bryan Decker (above) was then transported to the Southeastern Ohio Regional Jail.

A police source said: "That kinda thing would put you right off your McNuggets. Yessir!"

ONCE famed for its fluffy white carpets and servile Playmates, the Playboy Mansion has gone to seed after its lothario owner Hugh Hefner died four years ago today.

But the memories of almost non-stop wild sex parties thrown there are seared in the memories of those who fulfilled Hef's every hedonistic whim.

Fun

Now builders are working to restore the building after it was left to rot.

Today, the pool where Hef held his glamorous parties has been drained, the grounds torn up, and the mansion is clad with scaffolding.

But back in the day it looked to the outside world as a gaudy adult fun palace.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Hef lived out the dream of self-indulgence with his Bunny Girls that made men the world over envious.

The multi-millionaire magazine magnate in Holmby Hills, California, who founded and owned Playboy, sought to publicly embody his publication.

Lavish parties would be attended by A-list celebs and often they'd descend into drunken and drug fuelled orgies on the fluffy white carpets.

But Playboy is more than a mansion.

The vast house was built on the proceeds of Hef's empire, which grew thanks to the hot babes pictured in the mag.

And unlike the crumbling house, these images will be with us forever!

Here's some beauties...

MADONNA

MONROE

TRACI BINGHAM

BY the time he was staring death in the face, Bernie Madoff was literally falling apart. The former chairman of New York's prestigious NASDAQ stock exchange had lost toes, teeth, and even his mind.

His kidneys were shot, he was on dialysis, and he required oxygen.

Severe heart disease prevented him from walking further than a few steps.

For a man of 82, business titan, husband, father, and grandfather, it was a long, drawn out, and lonely demise.

But no-one cared.

There was no sympathy forthcoming for the crook who pulled off the largest Ponzi scheme in history, ruining thousands of lives in the process.

He was the living embodiment of corrupt New York, making even the fictional Gordon 'Greed is good' Gekko from director Oliver Stone's movie Wall Street look like a saint...

The £13 BILLION con man

EIGHT days before his death on April 14 this year, Bernie Madoff drew a nurse to his prison hospital cell where he was screaming: "Help! I hate this fking place!"

He had been in prison for more than 11 years for swindling investors out of roughly $18 billion (£13bn) dating back to at least the early 1990s.

"Fk them!" Madoff told his nurse, when she told him he would wake up other inmates. Confused and agitated, he

By KOURTNEY KENNEDY
news@sundaysport.co.uk

shouted: "No-one is respecting me or doing anything. I can't believe they're doing this to me!"

It was unclear who or what he was referring to at the time.

He then grew quiet and sat on the edge of the bed with his face in his hands.

Hospice

Madoff spent his final 17 months of life in hospice care before kidney failure killed him.

Toward the end of that stretch, he had two toes amputated because of gangrene and he'd had lost eight teeth.

He depended on a wheelchair and oxygen tanks and was also receiving dialysis treatments, which he sometimes declined.

A severe coronary artery disease rendered him barely able to walk for any substantial amount of time.

He was, however, vaccinated against COVID-19 at the start of this year.

Madoff, serving a 150-year sentence, applied for early release in 2019, on account of his failing health.

He had hoped to stay with a friend in Baltimore, Maryland, and be treated at Johns Hopkins University Hospital.

But that application was blocked on more than one occasion over the severity of his crimes.

A judge finally rejected the request altogether, noting the crooked investor "never fully accepted responsibility for his actions and that he even faults his victims".

Meanwhile, Madoff's lawyer argued that his client's irreversibly poor health should have allowed him to spend his final days outside the prison system.

"There is no point to compassionate release if there is no compassion," the lawyer said.

But more than 500 victims wrote letters urging the judge to show no mercy on Madoff in terms of the leniency of his sentence.

His Ponzi scheme ruined scores of lives, stole the financial futures of thousands, and sent many retirees back to work after wiping out their nest eggs.

At least four people connected to Madoff died by suicide, including his own son, Mark, who hanged himself on the second anniversary of his father's arrest.

Madoff's remaining son, Andrew, died of recurring cancer in 2014, leukaemia he'd previously recovered from, only for it to be retriggered by the stress resulting from his dad's arrest.

Before he died, Andrew said of his disgraced father: "One way to think of this is the scandal and everything that happened killed my brother very quickly."

Killing

"And it's killing me slowly." Others continue to suffer.

Gregg Felsen's savings were wiped out. Now 72, he works as a wedding and events photographer in Palm Springs, California, to make a living.

He said that he will never be able to retire and that Madoff didn't deserve to be granted a compassionate release.

"I never got a break, why should he get a break? He's terminally ill? I'm terminally broke," said Felsen.

"He ruined a lot of people's lives and changed them forever. He deserved no leniency whatsoever."

Madoff was described as a difficult medical patient when he was incarcerated at the age of 71, stubbornly refusing medical treatment and missing appointments.

In his final weeks, Madoff's mental health saw a steep decline. He told a correction's officer that he'd seen a bird in their pocket.

Madoff, who was taking methadone to ease his pain, admitted to doctors that he was "feeling crazy" and many of his communications were incoherent.

He was found lifeless at 3.10am on April 14 and declared dead less than 20 minutes later.

Investigators say they have since recovered $14.5 billion (£10.5bn) of the money Madoff was accused of hiding.

On paper, the Queens native had claimed $65 billion (£50bn) in fictional profits, which was what attracted his "investors" in the first place.

They were seeking a quick turnaround on the money they handed to Madoff, to make even more for them.

Little did they know he was robbing Peter to pay Paul in order to cover his tracks.

His mask of a stellar Wall Street career could only carry him so far, though.

Guilty

Soon the greatest fraud the world has ever seen inevitably unfolded and Madoff, completely cornered, copped a guilty plea.

In 2011, his now widow Ruth claimed she and her fraudster husband considered suicide as the walls were closing in on him.

FICTIONAL PROFITS:
Bernie Madoff stole to cover his tracks

Despite his failing mental and physical health, he reportedly signed a do-not-resuscitate order a couple days prior to his death.

Before he died, though, in conversations with The Washington Post newspaper, Madoff said all the things you might expect someone still seeking mercy to say.

That he was sorry. That the deaths of his sons had punished him more than prison could.

That he was responsible for his crimes, and that he knew he had hurt many people.

"You know there hasn't been a day in prison that I haven't felt the guilt for the pain I caused on the victims and for my family," he confessed.

"You know I lost both my sons, and my wife is not really well. So it's horrible. I was very close with my family. I made a terrible mistake."

He said he had worked with prosecutors to recoup as much money as he could for investors, persuading members of his Ponzi scheme who had received payouts to return them.

"I felt the one thing I wanted to do was try and be helpful in some way to recover the victims' money," Madoff said in that final interview.

"My business was perfectly legitimate for 36 years, and I just made a mistake at one point, and I didn't realise at the time that I wouldn't be able to get myself out of it.

"It was certainly not my intention to create all these issues and all these problems for everybody.

Trial

"You know, I took a plea. I didn't go to trial because I felt that I was, I was really the guilty one," Madoff said.

"My family had nothing to do with it. And, you know, quite frankly, I deserve to be punished. It wasn't something I should find some sort of excuse for. I didn't."

"I had no idea that it would evolve the way it did. I simply just couldn't help it."

REMAINS: Alex Abraha

A BURGLAR was mauled to death and partially EATEN by a pair of pitbulls after breaking into a home.

What was left of Alex Binyam Abraha, 21, was found by the homeowner in Coweta County, Georgia, where authorities said evidence shows he was inside the residence at some point.

The homeowner, who was not publicly identified, returned home and made the grisly find on his porch, investigators said.

"The homeowner doesn't know him, wasn't expecting him, and was not home at the time," Investigator Toby Nix of the Coweta County Sheriff's Office confirmed.

Autopsy

An autopsy revealed that Abraha, who had warrants out for his arrest in Fulton County, had been fatally mauled by the dogs.

Authorities believe he had broken into the home and encountered the animals. But an investigation is ongoing.

No charges will be filed against the owner of the property, although the fate of his canine companions is unclear.

"The dogs have been turned over to animal control and nothing has been determined as to what happens next for them," Nix said.

Sheriff officials are trying to figure out how Abraha got to the home since no vehicle was found nearby.

The Georgia Bureau of Investigation is also assisting in the probe.

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Who are they saving the world for?

PRESSURE: The Insulate Britain mob and (below) dead dolphins in the Faroe Isles

WHEN the good people of the Faroe Islands slaughtered a load of dolphins a couple of weeks ago, the right-on world recoiled in horror.

Although the Faroese, on their remote, chilly archipelago a good few miles north of Scotland, have been doing it every year for pretty much ever.

And why shouldn't they?

They get enough meat and blubber to last each family for months and more importantly than anything else, it's free.

Dolphins, no matter how pretty they are, aren't endangered.

And despite being renowned for their high intelligence, if they're daft enough to gather in the same place every year, despite some of their forebears being culled the year before and the year before that, more fool them.

Likewise, people in the Arctic circle who actively kill seal cubs for their meat and fur.

Brutal

Granted, the process is brutal and grisly. But for those living in what the rest of us would consider pretty inhospitable conditions, it is a way of life.

Just as, in the same way, us lot prising lobsters from the seabed or electrocuting pigs is not really on the top of everyone's to-do list but will almost certainly end up on many of our dinner plates.

No-one has the right to tell anyone else how to eat because they almost certainly do something themselves that the vast majority would not.

Like slurping down fresh squid that's just been ruthlessly conned out of the depths by a bright fishing boat light and fancily calling it "calamari".

Or voting for the Green Party.

In the latter case, these weirdos who the world has been laughing at for years are now trying to reinvent themselves as some sort of new religion.

Like the zealots that they are, only they are right, and everyone else is wrong.

An offshoot of these self-styled enlightened ones, who presume to hover above normal humanity, are those dickheads who keep gluing themselves to the roads in the name of saving the planet.

On Monday, the twats that call themselves Insulate Britain brought London to a standstill yet again by targeting several thoroughfares including the Blackwall Tunnel under the River Thames.

In the process, they managed to stop at least one ambulance carrying someone's 81-year-old desperately-ill mother from getting to hospital.

The hi-vis jacketed morons insist this is to save the world.

But save it from what? Living people?

There is a lot to be said about caring about the environment.

Hardly anyone would disagree.

But using human lives as bait is about as far away from a considered argument as you can get.

Squealing

Squealing with sheer displeasure when angry and frustrated drivers grab them by their smelly tunics and drag them off the road should be the least of their concerns.

Sooner or later, one of them is going to end up needing a hospital themselves after their skull is caved in with the arse-end of a crowbar.

What a pity that the ambulance won't be able to reach them.

School help woman's sex with student

A TEACHER'S assistant is facing charges after police say she admitted to having sex with a male student.

Police Chief Paul Bush says 24-year-old Megan Moore confided in a teacher about the sexual contact.

That teacher told the principal of the school in the Maysville School District, Oklahoma, who then told the authorities.

Chief Bush said the FBI may take over the case, because Moore (above) is a member of a Native American tribe.

"First-degree rape is what she was charged with," he said. "Formal charges were sent to the Chickasaw Nation prosecutors office so it will be up to them to file charges or not."

Moore, who is married with two sons, has not yet entered a plea.

Chief Bush said: "It's sad it's nothing new, but we take all complaints seriously and if someone comes forth, we'll investigate and try to prosecute."

"I'm glad that the teacher did the right thing and reported it."

Ninja attacks squaddies at airport base

A SWORD-wielding man in full ninja garb launched a nighttime attack on an army special ops unit, injuring two soldiers before he was arrested.

The ambush took place just after 1am at the Inyokern Airport in Kern County, north of Los Angeles, Army Special Operations Aviation Command spokesman Maj Jeff Silinker confirmed.

An officer out for a late-night cigarette was approached by an unknown person wearing full ninja kit, wielding a sword.

"Do you know who I am?" the so-called ninja asked the staff sergeant.

The "ninja" then slashed the officer with his sword, hitting his knee and legs and striking his phone.

When he was found, 35-year-old Gino Rivera, flashed his weapon at cops before being nicked.

PLAGUE BOFFIN 'KILLED CRIMPER IN KINKY SEX GAME'

By BLAKE LEIGH news@sundaysport.co.uk

A FORMER microbiology professor is on trial for allegedly stabbing his boyfriend to death with the help of a stranger, as part of a sexual fantasy.

A jury was selected in Cook County, Illinois, for the trial of Wyndham Latham, 47, in the 2017 death of his lover, Trenton Cornell-Duranleau, a 26-year-old hairdresser from Michigan.

Latham is accused of enlisting Andrew Warren, an Oxford University financial officer, to fly from England to Chicago to help him kill Mr Cornell-Duranleau.

The prosecution, during opening statements, argued that Latham, a wealthy and powerful academic known for his work on the bubonic plague, took advantage of a "young man just trying to make his way in Chicago".

However, Latham's attorney painted a different picture, saying that Warren, who has already pleaded guilty in Cornell-Duranleau's murder, committed a crime against both the defendant and the victim. Defence lawyer Kenneth Wine said: "This was nothing more than a crime of opportunity that had two victims."

"Andrew Warren took the life of Trenton and also ruined the life of Dr Latham."

Trenton was stabbed 78 times while he slept in Latham's Chicago high-rise condominium on July 27, 2017.

Manhunt

After the killing, Warren and Latham led police on an eight-day manhunt before the pair were arrested in Northern California.

Wine said Latham and Trenton had a sexual relationship that often involved three-way sex with people they met online as well as bondage and submission and other sex toys, including knife play.

The attorney claims that the men had sexual fantasies involving fetish, restraints, leather bondage, and a variety of sex toys, noting that they would use meth or knife play during sex "to heighten the pleasure".

MURDERED: Trenton

JAILED: Andrew Warren

Mr Wine claims Warren joined the couple in their bedroom the night of the murder and attacked them. Latham allegedly went to the bathroom after having been stabbed by Warren and heard fighting going on in the bedroom.

Latham's trial is due to last two weeks.

Warren pleaded guilty to murder in 2019 and was sentenced to 45 years in prison.

Foot me! Check out Georgia's top cobbles

WOW! Gorgeous Georgia May Foote just gave us a glimpse of her enormous knockers when she posted this sexy bikini pic to her Insta account.

The 26-year-old former Corrie star uploaded a snap of herself in her skimpy swimwear, to celebrate being on holiday.

The Strictly Come Dancing scorcher also showed off her tongue which had turned blue from eating slushies.

One fan said: "I'd love to coat her tongue in my special slushie stuff!"

Madison's Yankee doodle dandy!

LOOKS like stunning Madison Welch is about to hit the big time.

Because the blonde babe has been signed up by a big US talent agency who reckon she has just what it takes to make it in the States.

The 32FF beauty, from Solihull, West Midlands, will soon be starring in top reality TV shows if all goes to plan.

A source said: "Nothing is set in stone yet, but it looks like Madison could be the next big thing."

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Bexie,

I've got a fetish for big penises – huge, thick ones with plenty of rigid length.

They have to be at least eight inches long, otherwise they do absolutely nothing for me.

I get turned on at the sight of huge cocks and can't wait to get out of my knickers.

I love to get both hands round them and pump them for a while, then I like to take them deep to the back of my throat before finally being filled by them.

But it means I have to go through an awful lot of men and I'm on the hunt for enormous knobs every day.

I've suffered some disappointing tiddlers in my quest but I can say that, for me, big is definitely best.

Do you think this is normal behaviour?

PL, east Yorkshire

Bexie says...
OH yes!

Dear Bexie,

MY girlfriend's best mate is a gorgeous blonde, with a cracking body and lovely 34Ds.

I've wanted to knob her for ages and last month I did, in the bathroom at a house party.

Just as I was about to shoot my load I withdrew for her to suck on my love sausage and I released down her throat.

Then a few days later we met up and made a sex tape together. She told me to tie her to the bed, spank her, and then bone her hard and fast.

But last week I had a party and the next day I noticed the sex tape we had made had been stolen and I'm now scared my girlfriend and best mate will find out.

What should I do?

KM, Essex

Bexie says...

BUY a safe and lock stuff like this away in future!

Dear Bexie,

MY fiancée has pert 34B breasts, which I adore, and I spend a lot of time playing with them and sucking on them.

The thing is, though, I get turned on when I see a nice pair on any fit woman.

There are a couple of girls who go in my club and have 36D-plus tits and I have to admit I just can't keep my eyes off them.

I sit with my girlfriend and imagine playing with these giant jugs as the two girls toss me off.

What should I do?

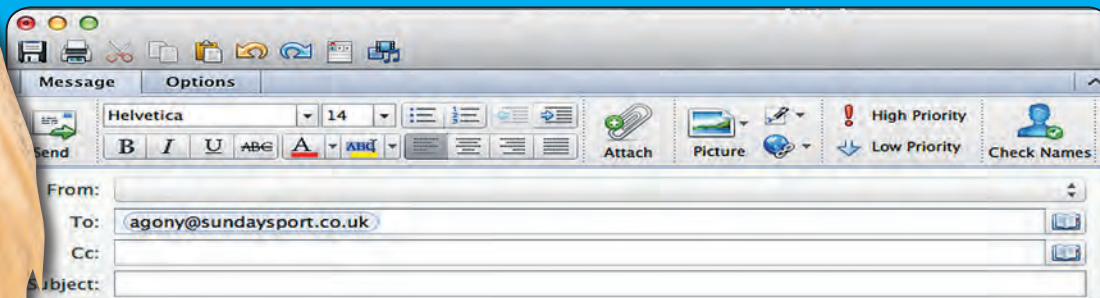

LC, Somerset

Bexie says...

NOTHING. You're just like
99 per cent of the male population who like to ogle other women.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week BEXIE WILLIAMS has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Sex with older woman is just threemendous

Dear Bexie,

I'M 22 and single and I have always wanted to do it with an older woman.

A few weeks ago I bumped into an old pal and he told me he was shagging a randy 53-year-old when her husband, a driver, was away.

His boasts made me green with envy – and I told him so.

But he told me the woman had a fantasy about being screwed by two young studs at the same time.

He asked me if I'd be up for it and I immediately said yes.

The next time her hubby set off on one of his trips, we were round at her house in a flash.

My stomach was turning over because I was half expecting her to be a right old boiler, but I couldn't have been more wrong!

As the door opened, we were greeted by a gorgeous redhead. My mate kissed her and then, after a short conversation, she turned to me and said: "Don't I get a kiss from you as well?"

She grabbed my head and gave me a passionate smacker full on the lips.

As she did so she fondled my arse and said she liked a neat, tight bum.

Gobbled

Then we all went upstairs and started to undress. She had a surprisingly fit figure and I soon had a huge hard-on.

My mate quickly mounted her and she told me to kneel on the bed next to her head so that she could suck me off as he banged away at her mince.

She gobbled me almost to completion as my pal thrust into her.

Then we swapped over and she got on all fours for me to give her a good seeing-to as she noshed my mate.

We had an amazing time as we shagged her in just about every position possible.

In fact, we stayed with her the whole night and she was insatiable.

I would never have believed a woman of 53 could be so sex-mad. She was like a randy teenager!

We now have regular threesomes and they just get better. The only problem is that I feel a bit guilty about shagging her while her husband's away earning money to pay the bills.

Is this justified?

PY, west Midlands

Bexie says...

OF course it's not, but this woman is clearly intent on having a varied sex life.

Dear Bexie,

I CONSIDER myself well lucky because my girlfriend loves giving me excellent blowjobs.

I think it's even better than shagging to see her blonde head going up and down on my knob as she builds me up to an explosive orgasm.

She takes me deep to the back of my throat and willingly swallows my man muck.

But lately the pleasure has been dulled a bit by her wanting to experiment with putting all sorts of food on my prick.

She keeps asking me to dip my member in stuff – the stickier it is, the better she likes it.

So I've had to plunge my helmet into yoghurt, honey, cake mix, jam, all sorts of stuff from the fridge or cupboard.

Her favourite is peanut butter, which she rubs on my erect tool with her fingers.

She loves to slowly lick it all off before doing it all over again, with my juices mixed in.

Trouble is, she's piling on the pounds with all the extra calories she's swallowing.

What should I do here?

GE, Dorset

Bexie says...

SUGGEST she doesn't swallow what she puts in her mouth!

Park jog ended in bonk in bush

Dear Bexie,

I WENT out for my regular run in the local park one morning a few days ago and ended up shagging some stunna in a bush.

Me and this blonde babe somehow managed to run into each other – we both had headphones on so I suppose we weren't paying too much attention to where we were going.

Anyway, the thing is, as we both apologised to each other there seemed to be some kind of instant attraction between us.

Within minutes we dived into some thick bushes out of sight from other joggers and started tearing each other's clothes off.

I pulled aside her sweat-drenched knickers to lick her out and she moaned with delight.

Throbbing

Then she returned the favour by sucking on my throbbing manhood as she gently stroked my balls.

I then got her on to all fours and shagged her doggy-style for what seemed an age and she kept urging me to go harder and faster.

But I managed to pull my thigh muscle as we both orgasmed. Now I can't go running for a few weeks and we'd arrange to meet up in the park again for some more nookie.

Any advice?

TR, Tyneside

Bexie says...

STICK some ice on it – and I don't mean your leg!

'My man sits on a chair by the window while a stranger does kinky things to me'

I HAVE a huge thing for my fella watching me get down and dirty with another man.

It's a fetish called 'cuckolding', where a person gets turned on by their partner having sex with someone else. It's a humiliation thing.

I've never actually done it. I haven't even brought it up with him, but maybe he will read this and say, 'Yes!'

I suppose the thrill is behaving in a really slutty manner.

The woman who is adulterous is called a 'hot wife' and a 'bull' is the lover you invite into the bedroom.

I suppose it's a turn-on because it's so 'taboo'. You aren't supposed to want your partner to sleep with someone else, and certainly not right in front of your own eyes.

My fella would get aroused seeing me pleasured by another guy. I fantasise about my man sat on a chair by the bed while a stranger does really kinky things to me, including anal sex.

He would be pleasuring himself as he watches and then when the other guy leaves, we have really hot, passionate sex together.

He tells me I'm a really naughty girl and a massive slut but he loves it... and so do I!

NOT everything that comes out of Russia is dreadful and dangerous, you know.

Take gorgeous Liya Silver, for example.

The 34D cracker, who comes from St Petersburg, started her glamour career at 18 and a year later made her first porn movie.

Monster

Her favourite scenes to film are minge-slurping lesbian and eye-watering anal.

She purred: "I really like it in the ass. Every girl should try it."

And her fave porn stud is Brit Danny D, a man with a monster between his legs.

She said: "His cock is bigger than my forearm, I can hardly take it all in my mouth."

"My always-wet pussy can take it all though!"

SPECIAL OFFER: ANY 3 PRIVATE SHOPS DVDs FOR £25 (was £75)

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day. Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Smallc and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

BROOKE LEA

GARDENER Kevin Parker says he would jump at the chance of tending to Brooke Lea's bushes.

The 33-year-old, from Stockton, fancies the pants off the Taunton model and said he'd love to see her in the nude.

He wanted a peek at her 32FF assets – and a little more – adding: "I'd love to have her on a job with me for the day. 'I reckon I could teach her to trim the hedges."

"And she might even let me see her lady garden."

#HOT'N'HORNY

CURVY Carla Howe absolutely loves being in control between the sheets.

The 27-year-old Playboy model, from Reading, Berks, has been previously linked to a string of famous faces.

However, any man the 32DD stunna ends up with has to be prepared for her to have everything her way in bed.

She said: "I love being in charge! I find it a huge turn-on to boss a man about and take control."

"I love sex and I'm not shy when it comes to getting what I want."

"I really love reverse cowgirl as it feels so good for me and the guy gets a good view of my bum."

"There's nothing hotter than having a guy run his hands all over your bum and boobs in this position. He can reach round and tickle my clit, too."

"I love most positions, to be honest, but reverse cowgirl is a winner for me every time!"

'CARRY' HIM: Ronaldo

United forced to 'carry' Ronaldo

MANCHESTER United players have to work harder to make up for Ronaldo's lack of defending.

That's the view of Gary Neville who believes the 36-year-old gives the Red Devils a problem as well as massive quality.

The 36-year-old was never known for tracking back in his younger days and he's definitely not going to be wasting energy defending now.

Neville thinks the other forward and midfield players have to do Ronaldo's running for him.

He said: "Cristiano Ronaldo needs players around who can work really hard defensively.

"That was the same in 2008 by the way. Ji-Sung Park, Darren Fletcher, Owen Hargreaves, Wayne Rooney and Carlos Tevez they all worked like Trojans to make up for Cristiano in terms of what he was doing.

Greatness

"You have got to put players around him who are going to forgive the fact he isn't going to press from the front, he isn't going to run hard, he isn't going to close people down.

"You're almost carrying a player when you're out of possession.

"But we were ten years ago, twelve years ago. You forgive that because of his greatness and ability to win games.

"My view on it would be to pick a group of players around Cristiano Ronaldo, whether that is Cavani as well up front who works hard and then around that you just get some really hardworking.

"Whether that is the really talented in the squad or whether that's some dogs like Jesse Lingard and players like that.

"For Jesse Lingard today you've got the likes of Ji-Sung Park years ago.

"The best players don't make the best team.

"That's why I had a career at United.

"Manchester United have got a lot of generals but unless they start working hard they ain't going to win anything."

TOTTENHAM CENTRE-BACK RIGHT ON

NUNO AIN'T DIER!

Eric backs boss to deliver

ERIC Dier says Tottenham's stars are 100% behind new manager Nuno Espirito Santo.

The Portuguese has had a patchy start to life at the new White Hart Lane as he tries to impose his way of playing on Spurs.

Nuno himself has admitted he's worried that Tottenham's players are not buying into what he wants to do at the club.

It looked grim when Aston Villa equalised in the weekend league clash. Spurs crumbled when Chelsea scored the week before and Santo feared the worst especially after losing the north London derby when barely landing a blow.

But the Londoners found another gear and went on to grab a vital three points.

Spurs defender Dier says that shows the players are beginning to adjust to the way their gaffer wants them to play. He said: "The way we reacted to the 1-1 was really important.

"We maybe could have started the second half better, it is something we still need to improve on but the reaction to the 1-1 was fantastic and we really put our foot on the gas and created a lot of chances and got the goal."

Dier is dismissing talk that some players are already turning against the manager.

He added: "100 per cent we believe in the manager. We have to keep calm.

"We had a tough couple of weeks under difficult circumstances.

"We were missing a lot of players, we went to Crystal Palace – injuries, sending offs, we really lost our balance there – and then we had two disappointing results. The Chelsea result did not reflect the game at all, we performed really well, especially in the first half and then the Arsenal game we were very disappointing.

"It's early days, I think the performance against Villa was the best of the season and that shows a real reaction from the players.

"The players needed to show that reaction.

Grumbling

"As players we have to perform and there are some levels you can't drop below and we definitely did last weekend and that has nothing to do with the manager."

In recent weeks, there has been some grumbling about the way Spurs have been playing. Nuno likes to play three at the back and that can be a defensive system.

But it was noticeable against Villa that Tottenham were getting on the front foot a lot more. Dier said: "Results are always going to be the most important thing for anyone.

"Whatever style you play results are the most important thing and that won't change. Obviously we want to be winning football matches and playing good football like we did against Aston Villa.

"That takes time, we are just at the beginning of a new phase, under a new manager, it is still early and those things take time to implement.

"We are definitely working towards that, yesterday we showed that against a very good Aston Villa side."

Nuno needs to keep the good results coming because reports suggest he will be sacked if Tottenham finish outside the top six this season.

Insiders say there is a clause in the manager's contract that means he could be fired on the cheap if he doesn't guide the Londoners high up

BOARD WITH SANTO'S VISION

ON THE UP: Dier and Heung-min Son enough in the Premier League. That could mean canny chairman Daniel Levy not facing a big compensation bill if he pulls the trigger.

Nuno hasn't had any money to spend as Spurs manager and will be hoping to make a couple of moves in January.

It looks increasingly likely that Harry Kane will be leaving London for Manchester City in January and that could bring in around £150m.

Solid

But until that move happens, Nuno will be shopping in the bargain basement and has identified one player from the Championship.

Stoke City defender Harry Souttar is the man in question with the 22-year-old Australia international catching the eye with some solid displays for the Potters.

Everton are also interested but Spurs are thought to be in the driving seat when it comes to doing a deal. That's despite Goodison No2 Duncan Ferguson being spotted in the Stoke stands for a couple of matches.

Everton face a battle to keep Yerry Mina in January as he wants a move to Italy. So Souttar could be the ideal replacement for the Colombian stopper.

Tottenham still haven't really replaced Toby Alderweireld who left in the summer with Dier himself not always looking a natural in the back line.

Cristian Romero came in over the summer but another young defender like Souttar would be a welcome addition to the squad.

Spurs would like to get the deal done for around £20m but the fact Everton are in the hunt means they may end up shelling out nearer the £30m mark.

SETTLING IN: Nuno Santo

REST TIME: Arteta

Arteta happy to break up positive run

MIKEL Arteta says the international break has come at the right time despite Arsenal's form taking a big turn for the better.

The Gunners made a shocking start to the season and there was growing talk of the Spaniard being fired at the Emirates.

But they have stretched their unbeaten run to five games after a battling draw at Brighton. Most managers would want to keep that run rolling rather than see their players head off to play internationals.

Arteta is happy to take the time to reflect before going again.

He said: "We will analyse what we have done. The last month we have had four wins and one draw in all competitions, we conceded one goal."

"We have to improve individually and collectively and prepare well because a rollercoaster is coming with the amount of games."

"I'm never happy with a point, but I don't think we deserved anything more than that against Brighton."

"We got a point because we defended really well in the last 15 or 20 metres of the pitch, and for the rest I think it was a game that we have to improve and do better in many other areas."

Arteta is pointing to the form of Ben White and Gabriel who are getting stronger and stronger in the centre of defence.

The manager is hoping for more from the young stoppers.

He said: "They're getting a really good connection, good chemistry, and I think

TALENT: Ben White

their qualities match and complement each other really, really well."

"I think both of them were terrific against Brighton."

While results may have improved, at least one pundit is still not impressed with the Gunners.

Former Spurs boss Tim Sherwood must have been watching a different game to Arteta at the Amex Stadium.

Because he thinks Arsenal still have plenty of problems.

He said: "Arsenal have no clue when to go long. They need to be more flexible in how they play."

"They are hell-bent on playing out from the back – whereas Brighton can mix it up. They know when to play through and they know when to go long."

It looked like that was after the Lord Mayor's Show for Arsenal. That was the big game against Tottenham. Now, we are back to the boring business and it looked boring."

PEP KEEN ON KANE

City set to clinch Harry deal in January

HARRY Kane is set for a sensational January move to Manchester City.

There are growing rumours that Pep Guardiola will finally get his man after missing out over the summer.

Then City put more than £120m on the table for the Spurs hitman. But the Londoners held firm with chief executive Daniel Levy turning the money down.

By JOHN ANTHONY

Since then it has been clear that City must bring in a striker or risk missing out on success at home and in Europe.

That means the Premier League champions will come back and offer £150m for Kane when the window opens again in January.

And now even Sir Geoff Hurst thinks Kane would be better off playing for Guardiola's men after he made a low-key start to the season.

The World Cup hat-trick hero said: "The thing I would say about the Spurs situation quite clearly - they should let Harry Kane go. Keeping a player who wants to move on, and maybe deserves an opportunity to be playing in the Champions League and keeping him there is not necessarily good for the player or the club.

"He's a fantastic player but I think the time is to move on and progress. It's my humble opinion about this situation."
